

Please Join Us At
The National Citizen Review Panel 2022 Conference
At The Beautiful Asilomar Retreat Center—Pacific Grove California

California's Citizen Review Panels are excited to welcome their colleagues from across the country to the first in-person National CRP Conference in two years! We are hoping that other state teams will join us in celebrating our ability to learn from one another about the great work that is taking place in their states.

We welcome participation from CRP members and facilitators, as well as from partners and colleagues who support the work of these dedicated volunteers who are committed to evaluating the extent to which state and local agencies are effectively discharging their child protection responsibilities.

Conference Site:

Asilomar's rich history dates back to its origins as a YWCA Leadership Camp built in 1913. Known as Monterey' Peninsula's "Refuge by the Sea," the state park is located on 107 acres and was designed by the renown architect Julia Morgan. It sits within walking distance of the coast. The facility allows you time to unwind and gather as a group in a relaxed, back to nature environment. Meals are served family style in the main dining room, allowing you to connect with other attendees over great food in a casual environment. Meals are included in the cost of the hotel room. See details on page 2.

How to get to Monterey. There are some flights directly into the Monterey airport. Or you can fly into San Jose or San Francisco and rent a car or catch a shuttle. More travel information can be found on the registration website.

Workshop Proposals: The National Conference presents a unique opportunity for Citizen Review Panel coordinators, members and colleagues to get together and learn from one another. If you are considering attending the Conference, we would like to encourage you to submit a workshop proposal related to the CAPTA citizen review panel mandate and your work including innovative approaches, successful collaborations/partnerships, or challenges you have encountered and overcome in your advocacy role as a CRP program. CRP members, coordinators, and colleagues are eager to learn from one another about effective practices in carrying out these responsibilities.

In addition, the conference committee would like to encourage submittals about innovative programs that will help attendees measure the effectiveness of their state agencies, including, but not limited to, programs that empower and engage children and families and programs that address racial justice, economic disparities or geographic diversity in Child Welfare.

If you have a workshop idea in mind, You can submit a workshop proposal by clicking here. Submittals due by February 28, 2022.

Registration: Click here to go to the online registration link.

Registration fee is $240 per person to cover meeting & hospitality expenses.

Sleeping Rooms: Click here to make your sleeping room reservations. Sleeping rooms during the event (Sunday-Tuesday nights) will be $308.26 per night. This price includes the family style dinner in the dining hall the night you arrive and all other meals through lunch on the day you depart. If you would like to come early or stay later, you can choose a room option without meals which runs $183.19 +tax. If you arrive on Monday, your meal package doesn't start until dinner, so you will need to pay for a lunch ticket at the hotel front counter upon arrival.
